Matt Pfeiffer with his Orchid Display

Matt Pfeiffer is a driven hobbyist and orchid grower whose ambition has led him to discover many new places. Instantly becoming an obsessed orchidman about 8 years, his hobby and knowledge led him to the right places as he joined Orchids Ltd. of Minnesota in 2009, learning the ropes from Jerry and Jason Fischer. He has since left working for them, but the knowledge of the orchid world learned there was priceless, having the chance to help maintain a huge collection of orchid species and hybrids, under different growing condition and methods, given the freedom to use his own ideas in the day to day operations, given the chance to travel to orchid shows all over the country and beyond, and meet many of the important names in the orchid world, it accelerated his knowledge of orchids immensely to say the least.

His hobby carries on and is leading him to lecturing on different orchid topics and potentially selling orchids on his own. A species nut at heart he is very fond of the Genus Dendrobium and considers it to be his specialty, he also grows many other fine orchids including Angraecoid's, Bulbophyllum's, Cattleya's, Oncidium's. He currently resides in Minneapolis, Minnesota, maintaining his collection at his house under lights mostly, with a greenhouse addition onto the back to begin shortly, He contends!!
